2021 UNICEF Seminar: “Think About Our City”

Learning and Ecological Activities Foundation for Children (LEAF) supports the nurturing of sustainable communities from various perspectives, including projects for building cities where learning about the environment is available (as part of Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA)'s grassroots initiative project); this includes projects being done at the capital of the Solomon Islands, Honiara City, where the garbage problem is created by population growth. Let's think of ways we can help the Earth as global citizens.
